Best Butter Only For Market Competition

It is estimated that there will be a production of butter amounting to fifteen million pounds in the three prairie provinces during the coming season; this figure being entirely outside the amount which represents the home consumption.

The Market
This fifteen million pounds surplus which will be produced during May June, July and August must find a market—but where? The U.S.A. and the United Kingdom do not need it, British Columbia will buy nine million pounds of it, providing it is up to the New Zealand grade. So far Alberta butter has not all been up to that grade, and if this surplus is to be marketed, it is distinctly up to the farmers of Alberta to produce the best quality of cream. No amount of business finesse or skill on the part of the manufacturers can place poor butter in a market which will take the best and none other; hence it is apparent that the question is a vital one for the immediate consideration of the cream producers.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT BRADY

Sunday May 29th 1921 was set aside by the Manitou Lake Ladies Aid as a memorial Sunday in remembrance of the late Robert Rene Jukes, of this district. The service was of a special character. Solos were rendered by Mrs. R. Watson and Mrs. J. A. Proctor, both ladies being in splendid voice. An eloquent address was delivered by Mr. J. W. Coe, J.P., this being of a purely personal character, whilst the rest of the service was in the hands of Mr. J. Park, who preached on Life, Death and Immortality. The community singing was good, the hymns (which included Mr. Jukes' favorite hymn "Son of my Soul"), being well known. Mr. Clark at the organ played in irreproachable style and taken as a whole the service was a fitting memorial to one who was so highly esteemed as was Robert Rene Jukes.

Red Cross Membership Drive

The Red Cross enrollment drive which will be launched on June 5 to increase the membership of the Society to the maximum is one opportunity being given the people of Canada to become part of an organization that lives only for the good it can accomplish and the suffering it can alleviate and prevent.

Ribstone W.I. Notes

The Ribstone W.I. monthly meeting was well attended last Saturday June 4th. Mrs. Dell very kindly lent us her rooms as the hall was engaged. Seventeen members and one visitor were present. The play for June 17th was rescinded, owing to so many of the members being sick, no rehearsals had taken place.

The Secretary was instructed to write and thank Mrs. Roy on behalf of all the members for her very great kindness to Mrs. Blair (one of our members) who was so seriously hurt at Chauvin on May 24th. We truly feel ourselves most highly honored to have such a noble woman for our mother, her works are great.

Mr. J. A. Murray presented an account asking for $30.00 for wire and labor and $10.00 per acre for land taken for road on N.W. 34-43-3-4M. The Federated Womens' Institutes of Canada

By Elizabeth Bailey Price
The holding of the National Con-Institutes at Calgary from June 20 to 25, focuses the public eye on the Women's Institute, and organization which originated a good many years ago in the older provinces of Canada. In 1919 the Women's Institutes were federated, forming an organization of nearly a hundred thousand women. As a result, many people are asking—What are these women's institutes? What is their work, and what have they accomplished?

Work and Aims
Their purpose is primarily to better home conditions in rural communities, and to bring to the farmer's wife all necessary information regarding her home and its activities. In the years of their existence the scope of the institutes has widened and now includes such activities as providing scholarships in the agricultural colleges for boys and girls of the community, the formation of boys' and girls' clubs to increase the interest and liking of young people for rural life; the study of laws protecting women and children; conducting campaigns for child welfare and better nursing facilities; welfare and better nursing facilities in isolated districts (particularly in pre-natal and maternity work); the Canadianization of our new citizens; the opening of rest rooms in villages, towns and on fair grounds for the use of farmers' wives and children; installing of libraries in these rest rooms, instigating community singing and other social interests, using the rest room as a community centre; bringing to women in isolated districts wider vision by contact with other groups of women, a linking up of the women of the villages, and towns and cities in any effort to better the community.

Editor's Table

GOOD ROADS

There is a general tendency on the part of the average citizen, especially in the rural municipalities, to feel that all responsibility for road-making rests with the government of the province. This is not right. It is not even possible.

Stop and think of the immense organization that would be necessary should any government attempt to do justice to each municipality! The Department of Public Works does its utmost to encourage interest in better roads, is willing to pay for services rendered, offer prizes (and handsome prizes at that) for those who enter the road building competition.

The fact is, that if each section of our country would unite in a real road-building campaign in a very few years our road system would be one of our richest assets.

SECURE THE BRITISH MARKET

With the possibility of being shut off from the Chicago market for their cattle the stockmen of the west are looking for the lifting of the British embargo. They have high hopes that the present agitation in England and Scotland will lead to free admission of stockers and finished animals.

Hon Duncan Marshall, who is now on his way to England to furnish evidence to the royal commission investigating the matter, claims that nothing will stimulate the cattle business like the establishment of an export trade. Great Britain, says he, is so much the best cattle market in the world at the present time that the difficulties of long shipment across the continent and then across the ocean would not be too great a barrier.

In reference to the small group of Canadians who are opposed to the removal of the embargo, Mr. Marshall points out that many of these are the same people who were opposed to free entry of our cattle into the American market, which they said would be ruinous. Some of these people were the first to ship to Chicago when the tariff came off. That market saved the situation at the time. Now it is not so valuable and if Canada is to swell her exports of farm produce she must always keep her eyes open for the best market, wherever it is, and secure it if at all possible.

In furtherance of this argument it is pointed out that Britain produces only 55 per cent. of the beef she consumes. That is all the fresh meat she can get; and both demand and prices show that the Britisher would prefer a much fuller supply of fresh-killed. We are breeding cattle in Western Canada with the cleanest bill of health of any

THE GRAIN PROBE

The Royal Grain Commission is on its way, whither bound, or with what ultimate hope, nobody seems to know. The chairman has been more explicit in explaining the purpose than anyone else who may be supposed to know, and he is sufficiently indefinite. According to his statement the intention is to give the whole grain trade process a "once over," with the entirely legitimate object of finding out whether the farmer has been getting all that was coming to him.

That the inquiry presages any innovation in the way of a "national" marketing scheme, or radical changes in the law surrounding the handling of the crop, is not suggested. The most that seems to be looked for, and likely to happen is a moderate readjustment of the regulations; with perhaps the side results, political and other, of a disclosure of the ways and means by which the Grain Growers Company makes such large dividends

THE RESOURCES QUESTION

STEPS NEARER SETTLEMENT

Settlement of the long standing natural resources issue between the Dominion and the prairie provinces appears to be a step nearer, as a result of a conference held last week at Ottawa by Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, and Premier Stewart of Alberta.

Premier Stewart stated on his return from the east, that he was able to get a fair and frank discussion with Premier Meighen on the claim of Alberta for the resources, it being sired by the western Premiers would be taken to fix roughly a basis for settlement on the matter of resources already alienated.

Premier Meighen has promised to take up with the Alberta government this month the resource issue in detail and attempt to arrive at a mutual agreement for their restoration to the province. Premier Stewart says the situation is decidedly hopeful for a final adjustment.

CENSUS TAKEN ALL OVER CANADA NOW UNDER WAY

Census enumerators are now busy pilation of the sixth decennial census in Canada since confederation. Every man woman and child living within the Dominion will be registered of possible and every farm animal will have its place within the records.

The Dominion has been divided up into districts as nearly as possible approximating electoral districts. There are 247 commissioners and in the neighbourhood of 13,000 enumerators. The cost of the census to the country will be about $2,000,000. One of the reasons for the taking of the census is to fix the representation in the federal parliament. The British North America Act gave the province of Quebec a fixed number of 65 seats in the house of commons. This was to be the unit of representation and the other provinces are dependent on their population as compared to Quebec. The taking of census will thus permit the redistribution bill being passed by parliament.

In the cities and thickly populated sections of the Dominion, it is stated that the field work of the census will be completed in about five weeks, but it will be some months before any official count of the population can be given. In the remote sections of the Dominion it will be five months before the returns can be secured. In the recent United States census the population count was announced in few days over nine months.

As already remarked the primary task of the census is the enumeration and description of every man, woman and child in Canada. Good business dictates that when so large an organization as this requires has once been created, it should be put to every available purpose. In other words, the "overhead" must earn its maximum. The census therefore, should deal not only with the the people themselves, but directly with the peoples institutions and affairs, insofar as the latter can be properly brought within its scope.

In connection with the somewhat elaborate and searching series of inquiries required by the schedules, the following points should be clearly understood:

(1) that no question has been inserted merely for the gratification of curiosity or because the information would be interesting, but only because it has a bearing on basic social or economic conditions; and (2) that the answers given by the individual are absolutely confidential, every employee of the ednsus being under oath and penalty against revealing any individual item, and the bureau of statistics itself being forbidden to issue any statement that would bare any personal matter. Though the name of each person is taken down this is not for the purpose of associating the individual with any of the facts that are recorded, but merely as a check on the accuracy of the enumerations. The census is first and last for statistical purposes and cannot be made the basis of any direct administrative action. Let it also be noted that census enumerators are required to use courtesy and tact in collecting the information, though refusal to answer a census question is penalised by statute.

SOME VIRTUES OF THE HOG

They multiply ten times as rapidly as horses, seven times as rapidly as cattle, and five times as rapidly as gain, live weight on 25 per cent. gain, live weight, on 25 per cent. less feed than do caattle or sheep, and in proportion to their live weight yield a 50 per cent. heavier dressed carcass. Of a given weight of dressed pork and beef there is 5 per cent. more edible meat on the hog carcass, and one pound of pork will sustain a man at hard labor 20 per cent. longer than will a like amount of beef or mutton.

There is no kind of meat that lends itself to curing purposes as well as does pork. For this reason it is the staple meat on the farm. Every farmer should raise enough pork to supply his own family, and most Alberta farmers will find a few hogs are handy things to have around when a note comes due. The dairy cow to meet running expenses and the hog to lift the mortgage is a combination hard to beat on any farm.

U. S. FARMERS FOR CANADA

United States farmers are being attracted to the Canadian farms in increasing numbers yearly, and even the upheaval which the war brought about did not interfere with this category of the United States exodus. In the first seven months of 1920, nearly 7,000 United States farmers took free government homesteads in the Western Canadian provinces, whilst thousands of others purchased ed farms. Canada's magnificent crop and her numerous international agricultural successes are going to attract more this year, whilst a sure forecast of what Western Canada has to expect from across the border this year and for years to come, is contained in the tremendous interest exhibited by United States farmers and others throughout the whole of last year.

LOSSES FROM CROP DISEASES

Among the diseases of economic plants here exist some for which effective control measures have not yet been discovered. Besides these are a large number where control is possible, but only after persistent efforts extending over a number of years. And finally there are a goodly number that readily respond to measures of control.

If we take into consideration the enormous losses resulting from plant diseases every year wherever farming is an industry of importance—as in Western Canada—then it will be realized that negligence and indifference towards the control of such diseases as can actually be controlled, are causes of great national loss.

Grain rust causes annually millions of dollars loss. This can only be reduced by certain safety measures, but cannot, so far be controlled. But the same grain that has escaped the rust is yet very seriously reduced in yield by smut diseases. In some years smut, quite apart from rust, has caused losses amounting to more than twenty million dollars in Canada alone. Smut of grain is a disease that is easily controlled by the very simple and highly effective means of seed treatment. Either from ignorance or from negligence, smut is still widely prevalent. Another example of a disease causing severe damage, but which may be readily controlled, is late blight of potatoes. The losses from late blight and the rot it causes among stored potatoes amount to several million dollars per annum. On the question of disease control, valuable information has already been published by the Dominion Experimental Farms but farmers are urged to refer their problems more freely to experts at the Farm, from which they will receive the best attention.

Disease control is of far greater importance in agriculture and gardening than is realized by the general public. Diseases, once they have attacked economic crops, can rarely be eradicated. A plant that once has fallen victim to disease, will never give a normal yield. Poor yields are in nine cases out of ten due to lurking disease, hence individual effort becomes a necessity in saving the nation the deplorable devastation due to plant diseases.

ALBERTA STEERS ARE NOW ENROUTE FOR OLD COUNTRY

Sixty of the best steers that have ever been shipped out of Alberta in one group left recently on their way to England, where, after their regular ten-day detention period they will be slaughtered for the Old Country market. These steers have been collected by the department of agriculture of the province and will represent different types and weights, but all good steers. A dozen of these are the purebred steers that were fed at the University of Alberta for demonstration and exhibition purposes, and the rest are regular commercial cattle, bought for most part at the Calgary and Edmonton stock yards and demonstrate fully to the Alberta cattlemen what can be done on the farms with a little of the feed that grew in such abundance here last year, and for that matter every year.

The heaviest of the commercial steers weigh about 1,750 pounds and from that they range down to about 1,300 pounds. They include every breed, but the majority are strongly of Shorthorn breeding. Just prior to departure they were ear-tagged with their individual weight, so it will be easy to ascertain how much each one has lost or gained in the long passage.

It is the intention of the Hon. Duncan Marshall, under whose supervision the experiment of shipping such steers to Great Britain is being carried out, to get every and all sorts of information as to the shipping of such steers to the British market and put this out to the public for the general assistance of the Alberta cattlemen, who would like to cater to that market, but who under the present uncertain conditions is not sure if he will win out or lose financially. Definite note will be made of the different sizes of steers, as well as their eventual cost and returns.

DRIVING IT HOME

If you were going to lay a strip of floor-oil-cloth you would use a tack hammer of course, and would drive the tack home every time.

But if you were going to build a house you would use the tack-hammer to drive the nails with? No sir; you would use a regular pound and a half carpenter's hammer to drive the nails home.

When they were putting in the foundation of your store, did they use a tack-hammer to drive the spikes in in to hold the sills? Not on your life; they used a three-pound sledge hammer and drove those four inch spikes home every time.

Which way do you advertise—tack-hammer, carpenter's hammer or sledge hammer.

If you're advertising a dozen eggs or a lame turkey the tack-hammer ad. may do. If you're advertising a Ford the pound-and-a-half hammer bushel of potatoes or a second-hand ad. may do the job. But if you are going to do real live store announcement work that will lay the foundation on which you can build safely not only for the present, but also for the future—then you must use the sledge-hammer advertising space and methods. Your advertising must be as big as the message you wish to drive home to your customers and prospective customers. In your advertising use a three-pound sledge-hammer with a hickory handle and drive it home.

BEST BUTTER ONLY MADE FROM CLEAN CREAM; COMPETITION IN MARKET BECOMING STRONGER

British Columbia's Needs

British Columbia will require nine million pounds and over, of butter this year for its own use. Provided Australia and New Zealand and other competitors were kind enough to keep their butter at home, all would be well for the Alberta producers; but unfortunately the Antipodes have no intention of doing anything of the kind. Our one butter market in B.C. is still further assaulted by outside competition and a fresh antagonist has arrived on the field in the shape of the American dairyman.

Heretofore American butter was altogether consumed in the States, but this condition has been altered, by reason of large importations of butter from Holland, Denmark and the Argentine which has flooded the eastern American market. Shut out of their usual mart, the western producers of butter have jumped into the Vancouver market and are unloading; and will unload American butter on the coast buyers; and at a price. Here is that same price—Seattle 25 cents per pound, and Vancouver 32½ cents per pound.

Butter on Consignment

Due to the demoralized condition of the eastern American market, Washington and Oregon—the big Pacific dairying states—are shipping their butter into B.C. on consignment; meaning that they will take any price which is offered. Although the Vancouver buyers have a warm feeling for the prairie producers they cannot afford to ignore the great difference in price.

Only the Best is Good Enough

Alberta cream producers are "up against" a serious proposition, but they can "win out" if more care is taken in production. North Alberta can produce as fine a grade of butter as any part of the world, if the cream is right, and there is a very fine refrigerator service maintained by the National lines which deliver the butter in Vancouver from Edmonton in 52 hours. Despite the American invasion and the New Zealand and Australia importations. Alberta has many factors in her favor, and can hold this market, if the message can only be brought home to the farmers that in so far as cream is concerned nothing but the best is wanted.

New Zealand Production

The dairy commissioner of New Zealand has just announced that the southern islands will have 28,000 tons of butter for export. The British government which was controlling food supplies in the old country through the ministry of food announces that the United Kingdom has sufficient supplies of butter on hand for nine months and over one million more boxes to come, which had previously been contracted for in New Zealand, Australia and the Argentine; thus shutting out Canadian imports for most of this year. The American Fordney tariff says most emphatically, "You can't come here," British Columbia remains, but C. C. says; "Ship" us nothing but the very best." If we try to put them off with second grade they won't stand for it!

The New Zealand quality standard is no fictitious barrier either. All butter from the islands is subjected to a rigid government inspection, and a real one at that. It is scientifically produced, graded and manufactured, and the whole executive ability of a highly efficient business government is behind it. New Zealand butter is a "hard nut to crack" but it can be cracked, just as soon as a large percentage of the Alberta men come to recognize that a new condition has arisen, and that any man who produces poor cream is injuring his neighbor.

... Uniform Standard Needed ...

New Zealand butter is always of the same high grade; it is always uniform; and Alberta butter must conform to this standard if we are to hold our own. This is the message to the farmers of Alberta from the butter manufacturers. "We have no market for poor cream." This is no cheap sarcasm, but a very real and deplorable condition. The remedy is obvious.

In the course of a conversation with one of the leading dairymen of the province, the fact developed that during the past year large quantities of cream coming from some of the foreign settlements could be placed under no category but that of "off grade." Some form of control is necessary to see that the rules of cleanliness are observed.

Since the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers Association last winter, 38 new locals have been organized, adding 1,179 names to the membership roll. On May 1st the total number of locals was 1,600 with an aggregate membership of 30,843.

as any part of the world, if the cream is right, and there is a very fine refrigerator service maintained by the National lines which deliver the butter in Vancouver from Edmonton in 52 hours. INSURANCE WILL PROTECT MORTGAGE
During these uncertain times a life insurance policy for the amount of the mortgage should be considered an absolute necessity to the farmer whose property is mortgaged. It is a duty to himself, to his family, and to the community in which he lives. Should he die, his family will not only be deprived of his services in carrying on the farm, but they will be obliged to keep up the interest upon the mortgage and finally pay the principal at maturity in order to save their home. By taking a life insurance policy equal to the amount of the mortgage he will guard against the possible loss of the farm at his death and enable his family to own the farm unencumbered—A. J. Sather, Agent.
The first duty of medicine is not to cure disease but to prevent it.
The primary duty of the Canadian Red Cross is to educate the people of Canada to the importance of personal and community hygiene. While this education is going on thousands of dollars are being spent in assisting to cure diseases that could have been prevented, if precautionary measures had been taken.

We do not urge our readers to buy at home regardless of the savings they can effect by buying elsewhere. That would be waste of energy to say the least.

But we do urge, as a matter of common British fair play that you read the weekly advertisements of your home merchants as religiously as you read the catalogue of a rank outsider.

There are bargains to be secured at home and you owe this much to your local dealer that you read what he has to say.

In Five Years
How much do you spend in a week on trifles you would never miss?—About three dollars?
That amount, deposited every week for five years, would amount to $841.02.

The Federated Womens' Institutes of Canada

War Activities

During the war the Women's Institutes in the different provinces were used to facilitate food control, conservation and greater production. In many provinces the Red Cross activities in the rural districts were in the beginning conducted wholly through the women's institutes. In Ontario alone they raised four million dollars in money and goods for war work. In several provinces they assisted greatly in re-patriation of soldier's dependents, meeting them when they arrived in the villages and helping to get them settled. They are at present co-operating with the Home Branch of the Soldier Settlement Board in assisting the wives of soldiers who have settled on the land. They are co-operating also with the Canadian Council of Immigration for for Household Science in assisting old

Household Science in assisting old country girls who may come to seek employment in farm homes. Ontario was the first province to have woman's institutes, the first one being organized some forty years ago. Within the last decade other provinces have followed and these clubs are in existence under the various names of Home Economics Clubs, Home Makers Clubs, Women's Institutes, and the Cercles de Fermieres of Quebec. The work in each province is directed by a superintendent, who is an officer of the provincial department of agriculture. Under this officer is usually a corps of women known as lecturers or demonstrators in cooking, home nursing, sewing and millinery. The local institutes are financed through grants made by the provincial governments and by the provincial departments either from their own funds or from the federal grant made under the provisions of the Agricultural Instruction Act. National Federation Formed In order that the splendid work of the women's institutes in the different

- provinces should be co-ordinated, standardized and brought to its greatest usefulness it was felt that a national federation should be formed. This was done at a meeting held in Winnipeg two years ago, when representatives of each province were present. The following objects were embodied in the constitution:—
1. To co-ordinate the various provincial women's institutes;
 2. To act as a clearing house for the activities of the various federated organizations.
 4. To develop agriculture;
 5. To promote educational, moral, social and economic measures;
 6. To encourage co-operation and community efforts;
 7. To initiate nation-wide campaigns in accordance with the objects of the Federation:

This organization takes no part in political propaganda, being strictly non-partizan and non-sectarian. This is a point which has raised a good deal of discussion. It being claimed that the Women's Institutes being non-political could not approach their political representatives and urge the passing of progressive laws. But, like the word "patriotism" the word "political" has been corrupted to have a very narrow meaning. In the broad sense of the word, it means anything "pertaining to promote the welfare of the state," and in this women's institutes can and do take part. Sectarianism, too, is barred—that is the discussion of it in meetings—as it is felt there is greater unity and harmony and greater strength if religious differences are not introduced.

This constitution is very broad. It can be suspended at any time, which permits the institute to "carry on" and take immediate action on current problems.

Conventions are held alternatively East and West, and the executives, who are elected in biennial conventions, alternate between East and West. The work is divided amongst committees these being agriculture, laws, child welfare and public health, home economics, education and better schools, immigration, institute technique, national events and publicity.

THANKSGIVING DAY AND ARMISTICE DAY ARE NOW COMBINED

A bill passed by the present session of the federal house provides that the Monday in every week which contains the 11th day of November shall be celebrated as Armistice Day, and as such shall be kept as a legal holiday, as a commemoration of the day upon which the armistice was signed in the great war. The bill further provides that the holiday commonly called Thanksgiving Day, usually appointed by proclamation in the month of October, shall be in future proclaimed and observed for and on Armistice Day. The bill, which is numbered 119, is to be cited as the Armistice Day Act.

British Columbia's fruit crop this year promises to be 50 per cent. larger than that of 1920 and with improved shipping and marketing facilities growers anticipate a profitable season.

Some interesting reports have been received from commercial growers of cabbages in the United States, reporting the success that has followed the adoption of the corrosive sublimate remedy for the control of the Cabbage Root Maggot. The Chief of the entomological Branch has estimated that during 1920 this method of control was worth at least $50,000 to the market gardeners of Ontario alone.

"Is it not possible that the experience on the farms handling machinery, working with animals, growing crops, associated with the fundamental business of the nation and under the discipline of steady employment in the open air, is it not possible that this was just as truly educating as anything that might be conned from books or even demonstrated in a school laboratory? In the truest sense it was the very best kind of manual training, and also the wholesomest of physical training. And, could it be linked up with the theory of the classroom, it would be the quintessence of intellectual training." —Professor S. B. McCready.

If you never realize how many parts an auto has until it hits a telephone pole.

The success of the census depends largely upon the cooperation of the people. Without general appreciation of the ends in view, and without the cordial assistance of the individual citizens towards those ends, a good census will be impossible.

The increase in the number of buffaloes in Buffalo Park Wainwright, Alberta, has reached such proportions that it is proposed to slaughter 1,000 of the animals this year. It is expected that a considerable sum will be realized from the sale of the meat, hides and heads.

Western Canada's wool clip this season is estimated at 5,200,000 pounds of which Alberta will produce 2,200,000, and Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia the balance.

Travel Will Prove
Good Investment

In every person's life at some time or other there comes a feeling of utter exhaustion, or as some say "Fed Up" with a general lack of interest in their everyday surroundings. Hard work is as a rule blamed for this condition, and little is done to remedy it until too late and the family physician is called. Work may be to a certain extent responsible for this condition, but the chief reason is the lack of a change, a relaxation of the mind. Get new sights and how the rest of the world live. Enjoy a change of climate. There are thousands of interesting places in Canada which may be enjoyed either winter or summer, and within easy reach via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

A trip at any season of the year send you back with renewed vigor, broader views and much wiser from the knowledge gained. A postal card to any Canadian Pacific Agent will bring you literature and information desired.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, provincial treasurer for Saskatchewan, who is leading in the efforts to develop the clay resources of the province, in a recent statement to the press, said: "It is not generally known that such articles as jampots, milk jugs, bear jars, mixing bowls and other lines of crockery are now being made of Saskatchewan clays, and are finding a ready market in eastern Canada. The raw clay is mined in this province and shipped out for manufacture. If such products can be marketed successfully as far east as Montreal, then it is reasonable to expect that a local concern, properly organized and with adequate capital might in a few years secure a fair proportion of the market of at least Western Canada. This particular market alone is well worth cultivating. In 1920 Western Canada used well over $28,000,000 worth of clay products in addition to its share of $4,000,000 worth of crockery imported into Canada from the United States. With facts such as these we feel that our industrial department would fail in its duty were we not to devote some special effort toward the assistance of those clay plants already in existence, as well as the development on a broader scale of such a valuable resource. Why should we be importing building materials at great expense when the very best of such materials are undeveloped at our very doors?"

According to all reports from Edmonton at least 50 oil drilling outfits will be working in Alberta this summer, covering the country from the international boundary to the northern limit of the province. About twenty outfits belong to the Imperial Oil company, while British and American interests are behind others.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN 1921

The Red Cross stood for assistance to soldiers during the war. It now stands for the prevention of diseases, the improvement of health and the mitigation of suffering throughout Canada. Membership in this organization will give everyone a chance to do something and to learn to take care of themselves. A drive will be instituted during the week of June 5, to increase the membership of the organization $1 a year.

Official statistics place the value of Canada's mineral output in 1920 at $212,775,080. Of his total $77,326,853 represents production of coal, which exceeded in value the total output of gold, silver, copper, iron and other metallic minerals. Canada's coal resources are extensive and production is increasing. The output in 1920 was 16,624,000 tons. In 1913 it "The Dominion of Canada," a study by the Bankers' Trust Company of New York, the Canadian mineral fuel resources are estimated to be over 1,357,757 million tons. This unmined tonnage is classified as follows:

	Million tons
Semi anthracite	846
Bituminous	313,573
Sub-Bituminous	832,053
Lignite	111,286

The province of Alberta includes more than two-thirds of the coal lands of Canada, and all of the estimated semi-anthracite and sub-bituminous resources.
